

Nutritional Therapy Consultation Waiver

Carol Bennett is a Board Certified Clinical Nutritionist (CCN) through the International and American Association of Clinical Nutritionists and a Registered Dietitian (RD) with the American Dietetics Association and holds a Bachelor’s Degree in Nutrition from University of Nebraska. Her primary focus is on natural, safe, noninvasive adjunct therapies to obtain optimal health. She does not diagnose nor treat disease, but provides information and nutritional therapies to restore natural balance and wellness. She will not encourage you to terminate any previous therapies your doctors have begun, and will gladly cooperate with your medical doctor upon request to support your health concerns.

Any recommendations for laboratory tests, diet, and nutritional supplements made by Carol will be to support, not replace, medical treatment you may be receiving by your physician or other health care provider. She will work within only the parameters of a natural health and wellness system based on the latest research in nutrition. Guarantees cannot be made of recommendation outcomes because of each person’s unique biochemical and metabolic differences. Carol may make referrals to other practitioners if she feels that may enhance or augment your work together. Carol does not benefit financially from any of these referrals. It is always your choice as to whether or not you follow through with those referrals. If you choose not to, your work with Carol will not be impacted in any way.

Fees for services are due at time service is completed and paid by check, cash or credit card. Carol Bennett is not a Medicare provider and does NOT accept Medicare for payment of services. She also does not bill private insurance directly for services. If you have a health savings account and a doctor referral, Carol will provide you with a receipt that you may submit for reimbursement of services rendered.

In order to be compliant with HIPAA (Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996), please indicate your approval of being contacted by email or phone message to confirm your appointment. You have the right to access, inspect and obtain a copy of your private health information, which will be done within 30 days of your request. A reasonable fee for copies may be charged for your protected health information (PHI). Upon your request, disclosure of your PHI will be provided to your designated health care professional(s). Carol Bennett also reserves the right to disclose information to sources that she professionally deems necessary to protect your health.

There is a cancellation policy requiring a 24-hour notice. The regular fee will be charged if there is a failure to notify Carol’s office (719.551.0556). Please note sale of supplements is final.
